FenCon is a fan-run, family friendly, general interest science fiction convention with a literary and music focus. Plan your day with lots of programming options: a live music and concert track, a real science track, a costuming track including a costume contest, tabletop gaming, an art show, and a charity auction. Sign up for various workshops or tastings throughout the weekend too. You can shop for art, books, jewelry, sf/f collectibles, and other oddities in our art show and dealer rooms. We offer our renowned FenKids children's programming for those younger members of your family. Interested writers can register for our writers workshop and our annual short story contest. See our website for details.

After the dealer room and art show close, cruise our active party scene in the evenings, chill out in our video room, or grab a snack and a hearty helping of conversation in our hospitality suite, The Admiral's Club.

You can't go wrong with over 100 program participants providing engaging entertainment all weekend long. Friend of the Fen level memberships get extra perks too, including a free convention t-shirt.

FenCon takes place at the Crowne Plaza North Dallas Near the Galleria in Addison, Texas. For reservations please call:

(972) 980-8877

Use group code FCX to guarantee our special room rate of just $98 per night.

FenCon offers full weekend and single-day memberships for adults. Discounted memberships for children and young adults are also available. Additional discounts for pre-registering.
